Subject: DPR's Review of Staff Reports on Biodiesel and Renewable Diesel

Hello Jim,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the Staff Reports.

The Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) has reviewed the Staff Reports on Biodiesel and Renewable Diesel and found that they are not registered as pesticidal active ingredients in California and are unlikely to be a major inert ingredient in pesticide products. Therefore, DPR is unaware of any adverse public health or environmental impacts that may occur.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Chris Reardon
