SACRAMENTO – Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. today announced that the application period to apply for the State's most prestigious environmental achievement award is now open. Applications for the 2014 Governor's Environmental and Economic Leadership Awards (GEELA) program are available at www.calepa.ca.gov/Awards/GEELA/.

The GEELA program recognizes individuals, organizations and businesses that have demonstrated exceptional leadership for voluntary achievements in conserving California's resources, protecting and enhancing the environment, building public-private partnerships, and strengthening the state's economy. Applications are due Friday, July 11, 2014.

California consumers are environmentally conscious and actively seek products and services that protect our state's natural resources. The GEELA program allows all sectors to raise public awareness of their green mission, goals and products.

GEELA recipients are chosen in 14 different categories, from climate change to environmental justice to waste reduction. This year's awards include a new category:

- The new category is titled Agricultural Ecosystem Services and was created to recognize farmers and ranchers for the multiple benefits gained from farming and ranching. These benefits include innovative and sustainable approaches to water conservation, food crop production efficiency and management of working lands.

Established in 1993, the GEELA program is administered by the California Environmental Protection Agency in collaboration with the Natural Resources Agency; the Department of Food and Agriculture; the State Transportation Agency; the Business, Consumer Services, and Housing Agency; the Labor and Workforce Development Agency; the Health and Human Services Agency; and the Governor's Office.
